City of Brookhaven Holds First Public Hearing on Proposed Fiscal Year 2015 Budget
City Manager presents budget with substantial enhancements

Brookhaven, GA, December 2, 2014 – The City of Brookhaven on Tuesday, Dec. 2, held its first public hearing on the proposed 2015 budget at the City Council Regular Meeting. Presented by City Manager, Marie L. Garrett, the proposed budget, a total of 31.3 million, includes enhancements to Police, Parks & Recreation and Public Works.

“From day one we have been hyper-focused on improving the Parks, Paving and Police in Brookhaven,” said Mayor J. Max Davis. “We’ve seen results but next year we will see better results because we are doing real actionable things with our budgets. This budget reflects what our community wants.”

“This budget allows us to continue improving the quality of life in the Brookhaven community,” said City Manager Marie L. Garrett.

According to the city charter, the city is required to hold at minimum two public hearings for residents to voice opinions for or against an agenda item. The next public hearing for the proposed budget is Dec. 16 at 7:00 p.m. at Brookhaven City Hall, 4362 Peachtree Rd, Brookhaven, GA 30319.

City Council is expected to vote on the proposed budget at the Dec. 16 meeting.
