Community invited to grand opening of new police substation

Brookhaven, GA, Sept. 14, 2015 – The community is invited to the ribbon-cutting ceremony and grand opening of the Brookhaven Police Substation at the Villa Sonoma Condominiums, 10 Perimeter Summit Blvd., on Thursday, Sept. 17, from 10 to 11 a.m.

The police department is combining this event with its monthly Coffee with a Cop, and will offer free coffee and donuts while supplies last.

The new substation will provide Brookhaven Police officers and residents with a place to meet and complete reports on the north side of town, according to Police Chief Gary Yandura. Police headquarters is located at 2665 Buford Highway on the southern end of the city.

While the substation will not be manned 24 hours, an outside Emergency call box will give residents the means of placing a 911 call.

“Come see our new substation and have the opportunity to meet your Brookhaven Police to discuss issues, share ideas and find solutions together,” Officer Howard Miller says.
